

Investment Attractiveness of Poland and the Factors which Influence it.

Role of Tax Policy

(abstract)

Poland at the moment takes very high positions in rankings of investment attractiveness in Europe. However, the market situation remains dynamic and is influenced by a number of different factors. The competing countries are developing with no less effort than Poland. One of the factors is Tax Policy. Its influence on the competitiveness of economies, Poland's situation in this field and chances of creating pro-investment tax policy in our country, will be presented during the seminar.